

CARLISLE HAS IT ALL OVER SCOOP'S GRAMMER SCHOOL

VAN'S HOME RUN BRINGS FOUR TALLIES

Butte defeated Ogden yesterday afternoon by the score of 6 to 4 and, with Kallio pitching in the form he did yesterday, Ogden was lucky to get the four runs. Van was responsible. With the bases filled, Van repeated with his long club the trick that Knight did yesterday. He swatted the first ball thrown by Kallio and the ball frightened the trout in the Ogden river. With such a good start, the fan expected other excitement to follow, but Kallio said No! and there was none.

The Butte batters had their batting spectacles on yesterday and Sinclair and Ballinger were touched up for 13 hits. Duddy was the batting star, securing three perfectly good hits for his side in four times to bat. Five Ogden men got one hit each from the young man who threw for the Coppers.

During the seven innings, Sinclair struck out six men. Ballinger struck out two men and allowed but one hit. Butte scored the first run in the third when, with two out, Clynes tripped and Duddy sent out a drive that hit center field fence, scoring his teammate. A wobble or two in the fourth added two more to Butte's list. After Whaling had singled and Marshall had struck out, Sinclair got one on Risberg's boot. Sinclair fanned Kallio and Demaggio singled, scoring Whaling. Demaggio and Marshall then worked the double steal and Marshall scored when Risberg threw wildly to home. Demaggio went to third and nearly scored, for Pourroy had lost the ball in the excitement of the moment.

The fans were rather blue at the opening of the fifth, but they warmed somewhat when Sinclair singled. The interest gathered when Woolums got to first on a wobble by Oriet after Whaling had also juggled it awhile. Moorehead fanned, but Jones waited for four wide ones and took his base. With the stage set, Van walked to the plate and swatted the first ball offered. The ball sailed cheerfully over the right field fence into the river.

Two more runs were garnered by the Coppers in the sixth. Whaling doubled and Kallio singled, tying the score with the run of Whaling. Marshall's scratch singled and then all moved up a notch on a wild pitch by Sinclair. After Kallio had missed three strikes, Demaggio filed out to Murray, but despite Murray's long peg to home, Kallio scored on the throw in.

Two of the most perfect wobbles of the game gave Butte its last point in the ninth. Clynes singled and Duddy sent out a big fly which Van dropped, after having it in his glove. Oriet hit to Levy, who threw to Risberg, retiring Duddy. Risberg then threw wild to first, letting Clynes score.

Ogden had several opportunities to score after the home run had been made by Van, but none of the Ogden batters could hit in pinches. In the eighth inning, Risberg fanned, Murray fanned and then, after Levy had singled, Knight went in as a pinch hitter and fanned.

Many of the fans complain that Knight is too slow in pulling his pitchers when they show weakness. Yesterday he allowed Sinclair to remain when nearly every man up was getting a hit.

SALT LAKE WINS FROM MISSOULA

Salt Lake, July 12.—Salt Lake yesterday tied a knot in the tail of that three-day batting slump and went after Blankenship's pitchers with that vigor poetically described as pristine. The mighty Bohen, who held the McCloskeyites to two stinging Tuesdays, lasted less than an inning and a third. During that period he was touched up for four hits, including a home run by Pendleton, and passed two men. Dawson, who succeeded him, was let off with twelve clouts, making a total of sixteen safe slams for Salt Lake.

Castleton started the game for Salt Lake, but grew wild, and in the third he voluntarily voted it a bad job and retired in favor of Morgan. Morgan allowed six hits, but they did Missoula no good.

LOSS OF TY COBB WOULD HURT GAME

Ty Cobb, the sensational all-around star of the Detroit Tigers, whose recent misfortune in sustaining a badly wrenched knee while sliding to a base, put his most of the game temporarily and resulted in a report to the effect that the "greatest ball player that ever lived" would remain on the sick list for the remainder of the season and possibly forever.

The story, which was later denied by President Navin of the Detroit club, led many fans to speculate as to what effect the loss of Cobb would have on the national pastime whether he would be missed, or whether Speaker, Jackson, Chase or Collins would make the fans forget that a man named Cobb ever played in the big leagues.

It appears to be the general opinion that the retirement of Cobb from the game would prove a hard blow to baseball, a serious setback for the American league and nothing short of a calamity as far as the Detroit team is concerned. At the present time Cobb is considered the highest developed piece of baseball machinery in existence. He is looked upon as the greatest batter in the game and the man who makes the most out of the slightest opportunity to gain an advantage. He is the most dangerous, most daring and most sensational base runner in the history of the game. This is his ninth season in the big leagues. He has never batted lower than the much coveted 300 mark and one year whaled the ball for a grand total average of .420. No man has been looked upon as his equal on the base paths since he broke into the believed to be another product of his brain tank. He has the rep of being a great base-stealer. Umpires know this. They know that he seldom falls on a pilfering attempt. Therefore, when the Georgia Whirlwind goes hurtling at the bag in a great swirl of dust on a close play at second there is a possibility that the official's eyes may not have caught the play, but something compels him to declare it.

the runner safe. The baseman may shriek in protest to the sun on high, but that places him in danger of being chased to the clubhouse, and Cobb is liable to steal another bag while he is talking.

It is indeed hard to conceive of Cobb being compelled to quit the game while at the crest of his career. Manager Jennings would be a bad man with whom to discuss such a possibility.

big a favorite as any home player on every diamond in the National league circuit. The ring of his mighty bat against a swift speeding out-curve has never failed to draw roars of approval from the stands and bleachers. Fans have wondered for seasons just how long Wagner would continue to wage a successful war against Father Time. Now fate has taken a hand in the combat and it looks as though the greatest shortstop that ever played the game has succumbed before the combined onslaught of two inevitable victors.
